Message from Patrick Curtis

Wall Street Oasis at its core is a community of students trying to break into careers in finance and young finance professionals trying to thrive and build meaningful careers. For years, we have been frustrated by the lack of change at the investment banks and have tried to bring transparency to the realities of the job.

This includes releasing detailed data on # of average hours worked by bank in the WSO Company Database as well as other lifestyle metrics the candidates have used for years to help them make informed decisions. Unfortunately, this has done little to curb some of the banks with the worst reputation since there are still many more qualified candidates than seats in the industry.

Inspired by the report released by the Goldman 13 and some of the concessions we are seeing, we decided to conduct a wider industry wide survey and publish the results outside of the database so that we can hopefully continue to shine a light on some of the worst parts of the industry. We all know with Covid and WFH, the chain of threads on WSO over the past year has shown that the current situation at many banks is not sustainable.

Our hope is that publishing these numbers continues to get the attention of leadership and try to reduce the mental abuse at the junior levels that is still far too common. We still strongly believe that investment banking is an incredible career and leads to a very attractive set of options, however, we want to make sure we put the mental health and safety of our community first.

This is the 2nd annual report and in Part 3, we will include comparisons to the 2021 report found here.

On average, what time do you go to sleep?	12:28 am	12:16 am	12:10 am

“WFH is great when hours are lax. During busy weeks it’s hell, you don’t get up from your seat for 12 hours but you’re in your own home and mentally that doesn’t put you in a good place.” Analyst, PNC Financial Services

Treatment (1/2)

“A few extremely toxic apples at the senior level who are overly protected by the firm. Should be fired and then culture will improve.” – Associate, Industrials, Elite Boutique

Have you frequently experienced unrealistic deadlines while at work?

Have your work hours negatively impacted relationships with family and/or friends?

Have you frequently experienced being shunned or ignored in meetings?

Have you considered seeking out counseling or therapy due to stress at work?

Treatment (2/2)

“Team is a gem. But not all teams are equal. Also much depending on staffing and personal behavior. You have to set boundaries and boundaries get respected or you get eaten to the bone.” – Third year analyst, Industrials, Elite Boutique

Have you frequently experienced shouting or swearing?

Have you experienced excessive monitoring or micromanagement?

Have you frequently experienced blaming without justification?

Do you feel like you've been a victim of workplace abuse?

Mental and Physical Health

“M&A turns people into sociopaths.” – First year analyst, Generalist, Boutique

Retention and Satisfaction

“Complete lack of respect of personal time and lack of push back to unreasonable/unnecessary client deadlines. Comp could double YoY and I would still not stay at my firm / current role.” – Analyst, Jefferies & Company
