

Sophomore Leadership Program

Citi's Sophomore Leadership Program provides exceptional sophomore students with a ten-week summer internship in New York City. The program offers interns training, mentorship and exposure to different businesses within Citi's Institutional Clients Group.

Program Highlights

- Robust one-week training program, including technical and soft-skills training
- Rotational nature of the program ensures exposure to multiple lines of business (Corporate Banking, Investment Banking, Capital Markets Origination, Treasury and Trade Solutions, Markets & Securities Services, Quantitative Analysis, Private Bank)
- Group client-analysis project provides additional insight about the firm and culminates with the opportunity to present directly to Citi senior leadership
- Executive Speaker Series, lunch & learns, and cross-business networking events
- Formal evaluations at the end of each rotation

Qualifications

- Sophomores currently enrolled in a four-year Baccalaureate Degree program from an accredited institution, expected graduation: December 2019 or Spring 2020
- Open to all disciplines and majors
- 3.3 GPA preferred
- All candidates are selected based on academic achievement, extracurricular activities, campus leadership, and interest in the financial services industry
